

DEMOCRATS UNITE FOR SUCCESS OF PARTY AFTER SPIRITED PRIMARY CONTESTS IN THREE DISTRICTS

Candidates For Aldermen Are Selected, and Sixty Delegates Are Named For Town and City Convention—Brief Sketches of the Aldermanic Candidates.

Candidates of the Democratic party for aldermen were selected, as a result of the primaries of last evening. There were contests for the aldermanic nomination in three districts. These contests hinged practically upon disputed control of the various election districts, and following the count, the keen rivalry that characterized the primary election, gave way to a feeling of unity of purpose to effect the election of the successful candidates for nomination.

The chief interest of the primaries was in the Sixth district, where the Moran and Casey interests were lined up against the Clamptett interests. The latter won both the delegate ticket and the aldermanic nomination by a margin of about 100 votes. The delegates elected to the city convention were:

First District.
Gordon W. Coburn,
David H. Monahan,
Thomas Diney,
Harry Welch,
Henry McOrmond.

The vote for aldermen in the contested districts was: Second district, John J. Ford, 186; John T. Farrell, 98; Thomas J. Blewett, 92; Sixth district, Thomas M. McNamara, 365; John H. Casey, 280; Twelfth district, Daniel J. Connors, 387; James Monahan, 280.

JAMES HUDDY.
FIRST DISTRICT.
Although James Huddy of 382 State street always has been a full fledged Democrat and has been one of the hardest workers of the party, he has never sought any public office. This year his friends persuaded him to become the candidate for alderman in the First district. Reluctant at first, he finally consented to run and his friends say that a stronger man could be found nowhere in the district.

Born in Cornwall, England, he came to this country in the year 1887. He was made a citizen in the year 1893. He has always resided in the First district and has been a staunch supporter of Democracy. Mr. Huddy is a mason by occupation and is at present employed as assistant foreman with the T. J. Pardy Construction Co. Prior to this position he was engaged in the mason business in partnership with the firm of Locke & Huddy for five years. He is a union advocate. He was president of the Bricklayers and Plasterers' Union. Mr. Huddy has been a delegate to several conventions and has worked industriously for the Democratic party. His supporters are many and loyal. They predict that when election day rolls around James Huddy will be alderman elected by a substantial majority. He is widely versed in civic matters and will no doubt render the citizens of his district able service.

JOHN J. FORD SECOND DISTRICT

John J. Ford, who last night was nominated for alderman by the Democrats of the Second district, is a native of Bridgeport. He was born in East Bridgeport and most of his early life was spent there. Ever since he became a voter Mr. Ford has been actively identified with Democratic politics, both on the East Side and in the Second district. He did not seek the nomination for alderman in the Second but became a candidate at the earnest solicitation of his friends. He is of forceful personality and ever since he became of age has taken a keen interest in public affairs.

Mr. Ford is council commander of Pioneer camp, Woodmen of the World, and a member of the Bridgeport lodge, Loyal Order of Moose. Last year he was a delegate to the sovereign camp, Woodmen of the World, held at Syracuse. Mr. Ford is an old National Guardsman and for five years was first sergeant and chief of section in the Third Machine Gun platoon. For five years he was an inspector for street car company, what is now the Connecticut Co. At present Mr. Ford holds a position with the Crane Valve Co. He is 38 years of age, married and lives at 860 Myrtle avenue.

JOHN B. CALLAHAN THIRD DISTRICT

John B. Callahan was born in Black Rock and has lived there all his life. He represented the Third district in the common council from 1912 to 1914 and although defeated at the polls last year it is a tribute to consistent efforts for his city and his district that the Democrats of the section where he lives have again chosen him for their candidate.

At the last election Mr. Callahan's opponent had but 27 majority and when it is considered that it was the year of a state election and the Republican candidate opposing him the benefit of the majority that Governor Hobbins obtained his opponent showing is another tribute from the residents of the Third district, who have seen him grow from boyhood to manhood.

During his term of office, Mr. Callahan served on several important committees and took a keen interest in all matters that came before the council. He was always active in securing improvements for his district and was deeply interested in the offer of the Carnegie Foundation to establish two branch libraries here and endeavored to secure one of the branches for his section of the city.

Mr. Callahan is 34 years of age, is married and lives with his family at 249 Monroe street. He is a skilled machinist and present holds a responsible position with the American Graphophone Co.

DANIEL E. WALKER FOURTH DISTRICT

For more than a score of years Alderman Daniel E. Walker, who has been nominated by the Democrats of the Fourth district to succeed himself has been identified with Democratic politics in Bridgeport. About 20 years ago he engaged in business in the Fourth district and shortly afterward began a political career which for persistent effort and consistent accomplishment is probably unequalled in the city.

Mr. Walker was a stone cutter by trade. He started in business in the West End in a small way and now has established a prosperous business and is the owner of some of the most valuable real estate in that section of the city.

Mr. Walker first held public office during the administration of former Mayor Edward T. Buckingham when he was chosen by members of the board of aldermen to succeed Alderman John N. Near, who had been named superintendent of the Police and Charles building. He was honored by Mayor Buckingham by appointment to some of the most important committees. Two years ago he was re-elected by the voters of his own district and during his tenure of office he exhibited the same sagacity in public affairs that he displayed in private business. He has held the position of supervisor of the most important committees and was twice president of the common council.

Two years ago he easily defeated Attorney Abe S. Gelding although the Republicans confidently claimed the district for their party candidate. Under a Republican administration two years ago when several large permanent paving contracts were being awarded, Alderman Walker got the district for their party candidate. It is the alderman's pride and boast that he has always helped the young men of his party in his district whether they have been opposed to him or not and also that regardless of the outcome of primary fights in his district he and his friends have always been found on election day loyally working for the nominees of the ticket. Mr. Walker has the respect and confidence of all the old residents of the Fourth district with whom he has lived as a neighbor for more than a score of years.

Alderman Walker was born in Ireland but came to this country when a small boy. He is married and lives with his wife and two sons at 375 Clinton avenue. He is fond of athletics and years ago organized and conducted the old Acorn football team which for several years held the championship of the state. He is a member of the Bridgeport lodge of Elks.

He has a large following among Republicans in his district. He received the nomination without opposition.

THOMAS H. FLYNN FIFTH DISTRICT

One of the younger candidates for a place in the common council this year is Thomas H. Flynn, who is running for the aldermanic nomination in the Fifth district. Mr. Flynn is 25 years old, younger than most candidates but he has the whole-souled support of many of his district. This will be the first candidacy of Mr. Flynn, but that it will be an auspicious one is apparent from the expressions of his friends, of which he has hundreds in the district and hundreds more in the city at large.

Mr. Flynn is employed as a tester at the Locomobile Co. of America. He is an expert mechanic and driver. For seven years he has been interested in motor mechanics. He has been with the Locomobile Co. four months and he was with the Erwin M. Jennings Co. several years.

Mr. Flynn is unmarried. He was born in the North End, where he received his early education in the grade schools. He lived there with his family 12 years. For the last seven years he has been a resident of the Fifth district at 988 Norman street.

He is known as an athlete. He was a member of the famous Tammans in the days of their strength, the old Elms and the Brooklans, in the football field.

Mr. Flynn is a member of the Loyal Order of Moose and of the Connecticut Chapter No. 2.

He is known in politics as a hard worker for his party. He has always been identified with the Democratic party and is a staunch adherent of its principles.

THOMAS M. McNAMARA SIXTH DISTRICT

Thomas M. McNamara, aldermanic candidate from the Sixth district on the Democratic ticket, is a product of Bridgeport having lived in the Sixth and Seventh districts all his life. At the present time he lives at 41 Worth street, which was at one time in the Seventh district, a part of the old Fourth ward.

Mr. McNamara is a staunch Democrat of Democratic ancestry. He is a son-in-law of Thomas Flynn, foreman of the Crane Valve Co.

Though not actively identified with political office in times gone by he has always aided the party and has done yeoman service in Democratic battles. Since his graduation from the public schools he has been a stirring citizen and in connection with the Fraternal Order of Eagles, in which organization he has successively been elected secretary, he has made a showing of which any young man may be proud of.

Through his persistent effort he has placed and kept the local acie in prominence that has made it the envy of all other state branches. His generosity is such that none will hesitate to follow and Democrats of his district may feel proud that he has selected such a capable representative to bear their burdens in the common council.

Mr. McNamara participates with other members of his family in brilliant mental attainment, three sisters teaching in the public schools of this city.

Though the nomination came to Mr. McNamara after a spirited contest, he has the confidence of the Democrats throughout the district, and his nomination in a district ordinarily so strongly Democratic is regarded as equivalent to his election.

DANIEL E. BRENNAN. SEVENTH DISTRICT

When the electors of the Seventh district chose Attorney Daniel E. Brennan, 75 Jones street, as their nominee for alderman at the coming city election they did well. Mr. Brennan is one of the younger members of the bar. He is possessed of an unusually keen intellect and a forceful and convincing speaker.

The young attorney was born in Shenandoah, Pa. He received his early education at the public and high schools of that town. Graduated in Democracy. Earnestly has he labored for the welfare of the party, spending much of his time discussing with his fellow voters the principles of Democracy.

In 1913 and 1914 the young attorney was nominated for alderman but was defeated both times at the primary contest by one vote. That the voters of his district want him to represent them in the aldermanic council has been evidenced by his selection again this fall, where there is no candidate against him. Mr. Brennan is a member of the Eagles, the A. O. H. and the Shepherds of Bethlehem. Every loyal citizen who seeks the betterment of the district should cast a vote for Attorney Brennan.

JOHN A. CORNELL. EIGHTH DISTRICT

In the selection of Attorney John A. Cornell, Jr., of 184 Whitcomb street, for candidate as alderman, the Eighth District Democrats have named a young man endowed with exceptional attainments. Attorney Cornell is in the truest sense a self-made man who has risen to his present position by sheer force of brains and character.

Born in the district which will send him to the aldermanic council, he has lived there all his life. He is an educated citizen, Oak and Shelton schools, after which he entered Bridgeport high school from which latter institution he graduated with signal honors.

He then worked in various offices of the city while earning funds with which to facilitate his way through college, at the same time studying evenings to further perfect himself in the calling which he was later to assume.

In 1911, after surmounting a lucrative position as assistant sales manager in the Bridgeport Chain Co. of this city he entered New York University Law school. Here he completed a rigorous three years course in two years. At the end of his third year, he had passed examinations covering every advanced course in the curriculum of the University Law school and graduated therefrom with distinguished honors.

Returning to his home town he embarked in the practice of his profession. Attorney Cornell is a convincing speaker. He should make a splendid advocate for his district. With his scholarly attainments he combines a practical knowledge of business methods and is peculiarly equipped to intelligently pass upon the matters which will be presented to him in the common council.

Every citizen of the Eighth district who is interested in having a clean cut, conscientious representative in the conduct of the city's affairs should take a personal pride in Attorney Cornell's candidacy, for it is certain that he will reflect upon those who elect him the highest honor.

FREDERICK MARTIN NINTH DISTRICT

Frederick Martin, Democratic candidate for alderman from the Ninth district, was born in Sheffield, Eng.

and is 33 years of age. His parents immigrated when he was but 10 years of age. Martin is a carpenter by trade and at present employed by the James Stewart Construction Co. in the capacity of foreman of the construction work being done at the plant of the Remington-Arms Co. on Boston avenue.

This candidate has always resided in East Bridgeport where he attended the public schools. He is married and lives at 169 Spring street. He is financial secretary of the Carpenters' union, No. 115. He has held this position for four years. He is also a member of Pioneer lodge

No. 79, Sons of St. George and of the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 289. The present Ninth district candidate for alderman made a good run for the office one year ago and he is the strongest candidate available in that district.

JOHN J. SCULLY
TENTH DISTRICT
John J. Scully, a resident of 632 Kosuth street, the Democratic candidate for alderman in the 10th district, is well known to all voters in his district, having on several occasions acted as delegate to Democratic conventions. His antecedents are such as to warrant immediate recognition from every voter whether Republican or Democrat for he is a son of Jeremiah J. Scully, an old resident of the East Side, where the present candidate has lived since his birth in 1875.

Always active in any work to which he sets his heart or hand Mr. Scully has done much for Court Minors, Foresters of America, in which organization he has been a member for the past 12 years.

His business acumen is shown in connection with his work in the editorial department of the American Graphophone. He is quick, alert and has an analytical mind from years of mathematical training beginning with his attendance at St. Xavier's school, Louisville, Ky., in which school he secured his post graduate education.

Mr. Scully will make an ideal alderman and the voters of his district should give him loyal support which he fully deserves.

JAMES M. WILLIAMS ELEVENTH DISTRICT

James Morris Williams, the choice of the Democratic party to oppose the Republican nominee for alderman from the 11th district, was born in this city, Oct. 25, 1880, and is now 35 years of age. He resides at 306 old stock and spent his younger days west of the river. Later he moved to East Bridgeport where he has resided for the past 25 years. Here he attended the old Waterville school and was a shining light at the old "hat shop lot," where he was wont to display his athletic abilities.

"Jimmy" Williams was the champion lightweight boxer of East Bridgeport about 20 years ago and made many friends by his clean tactics both in and out of the roped arena. In his younger days he was the star pitcher on the Acorn and Red Stocking nines.

In fraternal circles he is affiliated with the Odd Fellows, a prominent member of Samuel H. Harris lodge, I. O. O. F., and a charter member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He is also president of the Acorn Athletic club, of which he has been a member since its inception.

"Jimmy" Williams is one of the most desirable candidates that has been placed in running for election as Democratic alderman in that district for many years. He is a very popular candidate and his election is looked upon as a certainty by his many followers and admirers who are not only in the Eleventh district, but all over the city.

DANIEL J. CONNORS
TWELFTH DISTRICT
The election of Daniel J. Connors as the next representative of the 12th district in the common council, is practically conceded from the opinions expressed by many residents of the East End when it became known that he was successful in the primary contest last night. When the votes were counted and it was found that Connors had won by 173 the first one to congratulate him was James Monahan, who opposed him for the nomination.

Daniel J. Connors resides at 919 Stratford avenue and has been a resident of the East End for the last ten years. He was born in Norwich, Conn., but moved to this city 23 years ago to follow his trade as a machinist. He at first was employed at the old Eaton, Cole & Burnham factory. Then he entered the Bullard Machine & Tool Co. He later entered the Automatic Machine Co. where he has worked for the last 10 years. His work at this place was so satisfactory to the officials of the plant that he was made foreman of the machine department.

The aldermanic candidate from the 12th district has been affiliated for the last 25 years with the local division of A. O. H., in which he has held several prominent offices. He also has been connected with the Pequotnook Yacht club for 10 years. Connors is 45 years of age and married. He is very popular with seafaring men with whom he has come in contact during many sea voyages, which is one of the hobbies of the successful candidate.

His Reflection.
"Isn't that a beautiful picture? Payche at nature's mirror; a young girl gazing at her reflection in the pellucid pool."
"Bah! I don't care for that kind of stuff."

Here is an actual instance of Russian gallantry. A celebrated opera singer, who once "starred" in Paris, received from a Moscow place a handsome brooch set with diamonds. But not wishing to accept a gift, the motive of which might be misunderstood, she returned it with warm thanks. The next day she received a letter from the prince approving highly of her decision. But the writing in this letter had a singularly glistening appearance, and it afterward transpired that the magnate had riduced the returned diamonds to fine powder, with which he had besprikled the envelope, and had thus insured the acceptance of his homage.

America's First Lighthouse.
The first lighthouse built on this continent was at St. Augustine, Fla. Its chief use was as a lookout, where the Spanish people of the town could see vessels approaching from Spain or get notice of the coming of foes in time to run away. The tower attracted the attention of Francis Drake as he was sailing along the coast with his fleet of high poopd ships on his way home from pillaging the cities of the Spanish main, so he stopped long enough to loot the town and destroy what he could not take away.

A Magnificent Vessel.
In 233 B. C. Archimedes devised a marvelous ship for Hiero of Syracuse. Her three lofty masts had been brought from Britain. Luxuriously fitted sleeping apartments abounded, and one of her banquetting halls was paved with agate and costly Sicilian stone. Other floors were cunningly inlaid with scenes from the "Iliad." Stables for many horses, ponds stocked with live fish, gardens watered by artificial rivulets and hot baths were provided for use or amusement.—Chambers' Journal.
